Product Description

The 7-Pot Barrackpore comes from Trinidad and is a rare chili pepper. The pots are shaped similar to a habanero or a ghost pepper. The skin is typically pimpled and form a tail, per the photos. The pods start out green and ripen to a vibrant shade of red. An old story goes that the 7-Pot is so named because a single pod can heat 7 pots of chili or stew, so keep that in mind when consuming this crazy hot pepper. Sweet and fruity flavor. All-over mouth burn. <https://youtu.be/fNEZQoMmEbU>
